

Editorial Note

We are pleased to inform that the Journal of Bhutan Studies has resumed publication with Volume 50, Issue 1, in 2026, following a publication hiatus in 2024 and 2025.

Beginning with this volume, the Journal is transitioning to a single-volume-per-year structure to align with international academic standards.

To ensure uninterrupted citation and indexing, the volume numbering sequence remains unaltered, preserving the Journal's bibliographic integrity.

We will be accepting manuscripts for the next issue (i.e. Vol. 50, Issue 2) through the online journal portal, which will be launched in June 2026. The online journal system will streamline the scholarly publication process – from manuscript submission and peer review to editorial decisions and final publication – ensuring transparency, quality, and efficiency at every stage.

The Editorial Board remains steadfast in its commitment to the scholarly quality and continuity of the Journal of Bhutan Studies.